VISION: A leading Catholic University that inspires excellence and drives innovation towards a just, peaceful, and sustainable society.

MISSION: To champion the Human and Christian Education of lifelong learners who value history and culture through responsive and inclusive academic, research, and extension programs.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course, social issues and professional practice, studies the social impact, implications, and effects of computers, and the responsibilities of computer professionals in directing the emerging technology. Its specific topic includes an overview of the history of computing, computer applications and their impact, the computing profession, the legal and ethical responsibilities of professionals and careers in computing.

COURSE LEARNING OUTCOMES:

By the end of this course, students can:

CLO 1. understand the basic cultural, social, legal and ethical issues inherent in the discipline of computing;
CLO 2. develop the ability to ask serious questions about the social impact of computing and to evaluate proposed answers to those questions;
CLO 3. determine the basic legal rights of software and hardware vendors and users, and to appreciate also the ethical values which are the basis of those rights;
CLO 4. develop an understanding of the relevant social, ethical, legal and professional issues by exposing them to the larger societal context of computing;
CLO 5. justify the responsibilities that they will bear, as future practitioners, and the possible consequences of failure, understanding their own limitations as well as the limitations of their tools;
CLO 6. evaluate long-term commitment to remaining current in their chosen specialization and in the discipline of computing as a whole; and CLO 7. Relate the 21st century skills in all learning activities.

LEARNING PLAN:

Learning Outcomes for Midterm Period

Course Learning Outcomes	Topic Learning Outcomes
CLO1. To understand the basic cultural, social, legal and ethical issues inherent in the discipline of computing.	• TLO1. To discuss motivating scenarios in order to establish reasons why it is relevant to look into social issues and professional practice (SIPP). • TLO2. To explore relevant SIPP issues.
CLO2. To develop the ability to ask serious questions about the social impact of computing and to evaluate proposed answers to those questions.	• TLO3. Describe positive and negative ways in which computer technology (networks, mobile computing, cloud computing) alters modes of social interaction at the personal level. • TLO4. Identify developers' assumptions and values embedded in hardware and software design, especially as they pertain to usability for diverse populations including under-represented populations and the disabled. • TLO5. Interpret the social context of a given design and its implementation.
CLO3. To be aware of the basic legal rights of software and hardware vendors and users, and to appreciate also the ethical values which are the basis of those rights.	• TLO6. Evaluate stakeholder positions in a given situation. • TLO7. Analyze an argument to identify premises and conclusion. • TLO8. Evaluate ethical/social tradeoffs in technical decisions.
CLO7. Relate the 21st century skills in all learning activities.	• Collaboration, Skilled Communication, Knowledge Construction*, Self-Regulation, Real-World Problem Solving, Use of ICT (not part of topic, but integrated in assessments)*

COURSE POLICIES AND REQUIREMENTS:

1. This course follows the Traditional Blended Learning Mode. There will be 50% onsite and 50% asynchronous.

2. Enrollment in an E-Class. The Center for Innovative Learning Programs (CILP) shall enroll you in the e-class. This will be based on the class list provided by the Office of the University Registrar and at the portal.

3. Communication and Feedback
    a. Onsite classes shall happen as indicated in the learning plan section of the syllabus. Fifty percent (50%) of the weekly classes is delivered face-to-face while the remaining is asynchronous.
    b. Online Asynchronous Communication shall happen when the faculty utilizes at least one of the recommended asynchronous communications. The minimum response time for asynchronous communication is 48 hours, excluding Sundays and holidays. All communication platforms must be explicitly indicated in the syllabus. Below are the recommended asynchronous communication platforms:
        i. Forum – at the Forum Tab at Schoolbook, students can post their general concerns. The forum is public, and any post can be seen by the class.
        ii. Messaging – at Schoolbook. Any private or confidential matters may be messaged through Schoolbook messaging feature.
        iii. Email – you may email your professor. (Professor's email will be given during the course orientation)
    c. No use of foul, curse, and other bad words, whether in written or verbal. No shouting. No flooding of chat and messages. No selling.

4. Attendance Policy
    a. Attendance Policy for Onsite Classes is scheduled based on the learning plan. A maximum of 20% for class participation/recitation/attendance shall be allotted for student's grade.
    b. The onsite meeting will only be held at the schedule indicated in the registration form.
    c. Students are required to attend onsite classes, 40% of absence (from onsite classes) for the entire semester means 0.0 final grade.

5. Intellectual Property Policy
    a. Policy and copyright infringement will not be tolerated. Any violation of such will earn students a grade of zero in the assessment.
    b. Using any illegally obtained software is strictly prohibited.
    c. Students are encouraged to use their original photos, videos, and other resources. Otherwise, students can use royalty-free resources or embed the sources in their submissions to avoid copyright infringement and/or plagiarism.
    d. Giving of password to Schoolbook and Office 365 is strictly prohibited. Likewise, accessing Schoolbook and Office 365 account other than the students' personal account is also strictly prohibited. Violating students will be reported to the Student Welfare and Formation Office (SWAFO).

6. Other Policies
    a. Attire - students must wear decent casual or smart-casual attire prescribed by the Student Handbook.
    b. Students must be honest at all times; cheating and plagiarism in any form will merit a grade of 0.00.
    c. Cellular/Mobile phones should always be in silent mode during class hours; the use of cellular phones is prohibited in class unless a special permission is sought. Cellular phones cannot also be used as calculator during examination.

d. Any complaints against the teacher or against classmates should be properly addressed to the subject teacher for appropriate action. Students may seek the help and guidance of their academic/registration adviser in resolving the issue with the subject teacher when such mediation is needed.
